

Michael Sweigart
Director, Support Operations Directorate
NASA Shared Services Center

Michael Sweigart currently serves as the Director of the NASA Shared Services Center (NSSC) Support Operations Directorate, with responsibility for the oversight and day-to-day management of three subordinate divisions: Strategic Integration and Communications, Budget and Accounting, and Information Resources. Prior to his current position, Mr. Sweigart was the Agency's Federal Shared Services Implementation Program Manager.

Mr. Sweigart began his civil service career as a contract specialist with the Defense Nuclear Agency in 1987. He transferred to NASA's George C. Marshall Space Flight Center in 1991, where he served as both a supervisory contract specialist and a supervisory procurement analyst before transferring to the NSSC in 2005. Four years later, in December 2009, Mr. Sweigart was selected to be the NSSC Procurement Officer. In this role, Mr. Sweigart led a procurement office responsible for the management of a procurement portfolio of over 6,500 active grants, contracts, and orders valued in excess of $7.5 billion. In 2016, he served on a 6-month detail in the NASA Management Office at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

He enlisted in the U.S. Army Reserve at age 17 and was later commissioned as a second lieutenant in 1986. His last military assignment was as a communications and electronics officer with a military intelligence battalion located at Fort Meade, Maryland.

Mr. Sweigart's awards include a NASA Exceptional Service Medal in June 2009, the Astronauts' Personal Achievement Award (Silver Snoopy) in March 2004, and a NASA Exceptional Achievement Medal in June 2000.

Mr. Sweigart holds a master's degree in business administration from the Florida Institute of Technology and a bachelor's degree in aviation business administration from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University.
